“A Stranger in a Strange Land”
Paul Groner (Visiting Professor of Religion)

A discussion with Paul Groner about his lifelong career dedicated to understanding Japanese Buddhism in its historical and intellectual context.

Paul Groner received his Ph.D. in Buddhist Studies from Yale and spent most of his career at the University of Virginia. His research has focused on the Japanese Tendai School and the precepts. His interest in ordinations and monastic discipline have led him to research on Eison and the status of nuns in medieval Japan. Among his major works are Saichō: The Establishment of the Japanese Tendai School and Ryōgen and Mount Hiei: Japanese Tendai in the Tenth Century. Groner is currently a visiting professor at the USC School of Religion.
