Student: Required Participation in Poster Session

At the end of each fall and spring semester, the Department of Economics will hold an event to celebrate undergraduate research. As part of the event, students who receive credit for ECON 490 will be required to attend and participate in a poster session to share their research. Participation in this event is required to receive credit for ECON 490. Students who receive credit for ECON 490 in the fall or spring semesters will participate in the event at the end of every semester for which they receive credit for the course. Students who receive credit for ECON 490 in the summer will participate in the event at the end of the fall semester following the summer for which they receive credit for the course. Summer students will be required to submit a draft poster at the end of the summer session. The online research event for the Fall 2020 semester will be held on November 13, 2020. Details about location and poster format will be provided.

Your signature below indicates that you understand the poster session requirement.

Faculty Supervisor and Department Chair

“I, the supervising professor, agree to supervise the student’s proposed research project as stated in attachment. In my opinion, the student is academically prepared and is intentionally capable of carrying out work that will be educationally beneficial. The project outlined is in conformity with the department’s approved guidelines for the directed research course as outlined in the University’s Catalog.”
